MRS. DEWOLFE

"It is with great pleasure that I write to tell you of the wonderful benefit I have received from taking "Fruit-a-lives". For years I was a sufferer from Constipation and Head-

Nothing in the way of medicines seemed to help me. Then I finally splendid. After taking one box, I feel like a new person and I am deeply thankful to have relief from those sickening headaches".

Mrs. MARITHA DEWOLFE.

Our Ottawa Letter

Ottawa, January 13.—The opening of parliament discloses the government's authorization of a Canadian Expeditionary Force of five hundred thousand men as the chief topic of conversation among the members. It is pointed out that these figures approximate pretty closely the results attained in Great Britain on the voluntary enlistment plan and the fact that the Canadian Expeditionary Force in proportion to population, will be doing quite as much as England, and even more than the Muther Country considering our distance from the causes and consequences of the conflict. All are agreed that this is a proud and happy position for Canada to take. The premier colony of the Empire, as it is first in strength and resources, is first and strongest in its loyal response.

Major General Sir Sam Hughes is not indulging in any to-tal-tony talk but he is free to add today to the fact that the five hundred of the war he said five hundred thousand Canadians and had his arithmetical laughter. It was thought that the fact that the Major General was indicating an ideal rather than a possible goal but it seems that he was in full possession of the higher mathematics and knew what he was talking about. Both sides of politics now admit that the Major General was a good figure and are willing to let it go at that. Not so Sam. In a recent speech in Toronto he again raised the limit to six hundred thousand but this he did not do fully with the view to giving him a hundred thousand margin and making the five hundred thousand a sure thing. Time has so often verified the Major General's arithmetic that even his critics begin to suspect that his wildest statements are based on precise and elaborate calculations. In fact the Major General is far from being as spontaneous as his countrymen would have him be.
The Major General is very artful and always manoeuvring.

This being the case politicians and business men are reassured when they hear Sir Sam say that the five hundred thousand men can be raised like leaves on the wind.

The collection denotes the section of all evidence of prehistoric life.
Dr. Brown said:

"One of the complete skeletons is of the dinosaur ceratops, of which only a skull has been previously found. He was of the horned tribe.
The other complete skeleton is of a diceratherium, new to science.
Of the huge dinosaur, monodontus, we got a complete skull and a jaw. We collected all the missing parts of the interesting toothless dinosaur oristodon, so named because of its bird-like appearance.
The reptile can now be restored with out guesswork.

"We have excavated five skulls and partial skeletons on the horned, the duck-billed and plated dinosaurs, needed to complete our restorations here. We also secured the jaw of a marsupial (pouch-bearing) animal, one of the rarest things to be found in the cretaceous rocks.

"Among our collection are two enormous fossilized trees. One of these is forty feet in height and 1 1/2 feet in diameter at the butt. Its knots and limbs are perfectly preserved.
Accompanying are beautiful slabs of leaves. We have also secured all the great dinosaurs that lived during that part of the cretaceous period."

The number of moose being killed this season in the country north, northwest and northeast of Edmonton exceeds the records of all previous years. Fifty-one carcasses have been shipped to Edmonton from a single siding in the north country.

clockwork by next fall. By clock work they take it that Sir Sam means the regular methods of recruiting now in vogue in the Militia Department—in short, that no commission, other than that of patriotism and conscience, will be used. There is just that doubt, how far Sir Sam's clock work will do the business. Leaving out the older men, the women, the children, the unfit, the exempted, and those whose obligations domestic and financial tie them to the spot, five hundred thousand is no small share of a population of eight millions. As a matter of fact it is one in every two of the eligible fighting men throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion.

Wherefore Sir Sam's clock work has a sizable job ahead of it. Sir Sam has every confidence in it, but Sir George Foster, whom the universal disaster has revealed as the tip-est old Bourbon in the Cabinet, has not. Sir George, the wish being father to the thought, has spoken of conscriptio. Whether Sir George was acting as a storm signal, a role by boys to play, or whether he was indicating a melancholy mood, or whether he really believed it nobody knows but he seems to have been fold about the line hundred thousand limit and was probably re-acting out loud. Sir George, being as calm as a fish himself, never reckons on enthusiasm in anybody else and naturally conscription suggested itself to him as the only way out. At the risk of making the war unpopular in Canada he broached it, but on his own initiative remember that. His colleagues in the cabinet believe that Sir Sam's clock work will do it. It is a trick and that no extraordinary measures will need to be adopted.

Incidentally the lawyers at the house of commons have been taking a look at the Militia Act. Their verdict is that it is very strong medicine indeed. Under it almost anything can be done to the body politic—the danger being once proved.
Conferment of the Militia Act was an old days when Canada was a British colony laid against possible rebellion or outside attack by force of arms. According to the Militia Act any male Canadian can be sent anywhere in the world "in defence of Canada," and have no legal complaint against the authorities. Virtually complete in Canada was a and no special act of parliament, as that introduced in the British house of commons, would need to be passed to make it effective. Perhaps that was what Sir George meant—when he talked of conscription—the virtual enforcement of the Militia Act, a somewhat archaic statute which previous Canadian governments have found it unnecessary to put into operation.

Of course this is mere corridor gossip but it shows what way men's minds are running. Everybody is hoping that Sir Sam's clock work will stand the test and that nothing will be done in the way of military conscriptio in Canada. Completion of the conscription bill is a rousing sentiment in the breasts of free men. Hope is also expressed that Sir Thomas White has the financial end of the war thoroughly in hand and that the country's commitments being definitely known business will take courage and strike its old gait.—L.F.C.

LAST HONE FROM RGD DEER FIELDS

New York, Jan. 10.—The Alberta expedition, under Dr. Barnum Brown returned yesterday to the American Museum of Natural History.
Fighting the Canadian winter, the museum men got every last bone out of the one great dinosaur field at the end of the last season. The last of the Deer Deer bluffs away to the nearest railway station, and thence to New York.

One of the prizes is a huge, nearly perfect fossil tree. There are also two complete skeletons of gigantic dinosaurs, one of which represents a species new to science. In addition are numerous other rare fossil finds.
The collection denotes the section
of all evidence of prehistoric life.

only a skull has been previously

THE SILENCE OF DEATH (In memory of the late Miss Emma Dickson.)

Though the night's dim shadows falling,
Have hurried the light,
To you, dear, our hearts are calling Calling tonight.

Though no more the sunlight glistens In sky of blue,
In the shadows we still listen, Longing for you.

And memory, artist of truth, Plots one dear fact—
A face that's fair and pure in youth Radiant in grace.

Surely death cannot enthrall you, Making you dumb,
To our voice, dear, when we call you Call you to come.

Sister—Daughter—Can't you hear me?
Do those cold skies Hold the spirit that would near me?
Or are your eyes.

To earth's sorrows and pities blind?
Have you no word,
No token, dear, that human mind May know you've heard?

Only silence. Winds from medows Lone have found me.
Mystic silence—and the shadows Close around me. —J.M.

CAMROSE

(From The Canadians)

The death occurred on Friday evening of Theo. Taylor from a three days' attack of pneumonia. Mr. Taylor was 86 years of age and came to this country in 1895 from Quebec.
He took up homesteading in the new well known New Salem district, north of Camrose, and being interested in education, a part of his time to teaching the children of the community in his log school.

The latest report of the laying of the C.N.R. well on the branch south of town is to the effect that the actual laying of the steel has been completed and the outfit is now engaged in constructing the Y at the other end of the line.

Another son of Mr. Dell Goocher (making three in all) enlisted this morning. What a wonderful sacrifice!
And when this lad was asked if his father was going too, he replied, "He'd like to." One can almost imagine Dell catching the Kaiser on second. The Gooches family is of French Canadian blood. There is no doubt what these boys would do with Dourness if opportunity offered.

MONTGOMERY BROTHERS

THE OUTLOOK FOR THE YEAR

Canada's outlook for the year 1915 must be based upon the experiences, financial and otherwise, of the eight months' war period which has now passed into history. No preconceived ideas based upon the experience of peace years are of any moment in discussing the possible happenings and results of 1915. It may be assumed that the war will continue during the present year. While the position of the allied forces and the results of Allied diplomacy are more favorable now than at any time during 1914, it is quite evident that we are still a long distance from the end of the great struggle. The Allies are now holding the enemy, but they have not yet begun to push him back into his own territory. With this assumption we can reasonably look forward to a continuation of war prices for grain and other products of the farm. In so far as the prosperity of the farmer is the basis of Canada's activity and commercial happiness, the prospects are good. Considerable wheat is still in the hands of the farmers and the railways and other transportation agencies will be kept busy with this surplus until the beginning of the new harvest. Turning to the other primary industries—mining, fishing and lumbering—the outlook is almost as favorable. The demand for fish will be great because it will share the general demand for foodstuffs. The mining industry is on a solid basis and making steady progress. The demand for gold, silver, zinc, lead, iron and coal was never greater so far as Canada is concerned. The lumber industry has suffered more severely than any other primary industry, but its condition will not be worse in 1915 than it was in 1914. Indeed, many surplus stocks having been pretty well consumed, and building permits showing a tendency to increase, lumbering should show an improvement over the past year. The manufacturing outlook is fairly good. The outfitting of about 250,000 men and the supplying of an army of half a million in both boots, clothes, medical supplies and other necessities means good business for manufacturers. Beyond Canada's control. On the whole, therefore, the commercial and industrial outlook for 1915 is decidedly favorable. We cannot expect as large a crop this year as we had last year, but favorable conditions in other parts of Canada, may possibly make up for any possible deficiency elsewhere. The only danger lies in the lack of ocean shipping. Nevertheless, it behooves every Canadian who cannot otherwise participate in the war, to be hopeful and determined, and to do his utmost to make the trade of 1915 as great as that of 1914. By so doing he will be doing his bit, not only for himself, and for his country, but also for the success of the Allies. Prosperity, activity and effectiveness on the firing line—Courage-Controllor F. S. Spence of Toronto and editor of the Dominion Alliance temperance paper "The Pioneer" will also give an address the same night. The secretary will be glad to give all information to intending delegates regarding railway transportation, places of entertainment in Calgary, etc. Extra copies of the program and convention announcement will be had on application to Alberta Temperance and Moral Reform League, Adams Bldg., Edmonton, Alberta.

the higher education in agriculture. By the help of these grants not only are agricultural colleges and schools made more efficient in equipment, but it is made possible to pay men of first class information and experience salaries according to their station. Further graduates who have passed with honors and obtained degrees in our own colleges and universities are induced to stay in the country rather than to go abroad in search of remuneration to which their ability entitles them. Indeed, several good men have already been repatriated and have accepted lucrative engagements in the land of their birth. How far the funds are being used in this direction is indicated by the following appropriations made from their allotments for 1914-15:

Prince Edward Island..... $10,000
 Nova Scotia..... $27,500
 New Brunswick..... $16,500 Quebec..... $60,000
 Ontario..... $93,813
 Saskatchewan..... $23,800
 Manitoba..... $38,900 Alberta and British Columbia apply portions of the fund in a similar way but through the public, not mal and high schools, and thus the grants appear under another heading than agricultural schools and colleges.

Use MILDURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS FOR A SLUGGISH LIVER.

When the liver becomes sluggish it is an indication that the bowels are not working properly, and if they do not move regularly many complications are liable to set in.

Constipation, sick headache, bilious headache, jaundice, heartburn, water brash, catarrh of the stomach, etc., all come from a disordered liver.

Mildurn's Laxa-Liver Pills absorb the sluggish liver, clean the coated tongue, sweeten the discolored breath, clear away all waste and poisonous matter from the system, and prevent as well as cure all complaints arising from a liver which has become inactive.

Mrs. John V. Taylor, Birmingham, Ont., writes: "I take great pleasure in writing you concerning the great value I have received by using your Mildurn's Laxa-Liver Pills for a sluggish liver. When my liver got bad, I would have severe headaches, but after using a couple of vials, I am not bothered with them any more."

Mildurn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c a vial, 5 vials for $1.00, at all druggists, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Mildurn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

BEST HORSES IN WORLD COME FROM WESTERN CANADA

Farmers in Alberta and other parts of western Canada should be proud of the reputation which western Canadian horses are getting in Great Britain and throughout Europe. It is now said they are the best in the world.

Writing to J. P. McDonald, of Cochrane, a few days ago, A. D. Melne, director of supply and transport at Sandgate says:

"I thought you would be interested in knowing how our western Canadian horses worked out in actual service. Fully 75 per cent of the horses here at present are from western Canada. Eighty to 85 per cent of the horses in the second division were bought by me in western Canada, and it is interesting occasionally to see some of our western horses in London and elsewhere. They have an individuality which is different from the eastern horse, and even without the brand the western horse is distinguishable almost everywhere.
I have 25 of them allotted to my staff here, and there is not a people in the bunch, in fact, some of them are exceptionally good performers, and I hope will make a creditable showing in the hunting field.
This fact, as we expect to have a few opportunities to go out with them.
Our western draught horses have all got good shoulders, and can run better than the eastern horses, and are better suited to do work where called upon. The western riding horse, the short back, blocky horse, gives the best service here, and stands up better than any driving type so general in the east."

"I am sure if one of the western horsemen were to visit Shorncliffe camp he would be more than pleased by the record which is being made by the western horse here, and I am hopeful when the war is over that the reputation of western Canada as a horse country will do much to stimulate interest in horse breeding in Canada, and will result in getting considerable British capital for that purpose."

"I had the privilege of making a report for my government on the important situation in Europe. This involved a careful inspection of the remount stations in England, as well as a trip to the front during the detail. I had an opportunity to see not only the horses from Canada and the United States, as well as from the British Isles, but also from Argentine, Australia, India and several other countries. The horses at the front are in excellent condition and are exceptionally well taken care of. However, I can say that I saw horses from no country equal to the horses that came out of western Canada. I am riding two western horses myself and I regard them as good as any horses I ever had in my stable in Vancouver."

The carrying of the mail was let by contract, the service to be completed in three weeks, and the trip from Winnipeg to Edmonton was supposed to be accomplished in twenty-three days. The mail was carried in desert wagons in summer, and low sleds in winter, drawn by from two to four horses, according to the state of the roads. Log lists, and a stable were built at Fort Ellice, Touchwood Hills, Humboldt and the other stations. The horses were known as mail stations, and a usually a man ran a sort of "stopping house" for what he could make out of it in addition to his pay for taking care of the relay of horses always kept at these stations.

Passengers and express were carried by the mail, and were paid 14c for a passenger and "grub yourself." Some carried their own supplies and others paid the regular rate of 50c per man and 25c per night for the privilege of sleeping on the floor in their own bedding. As weight was an important consideration, the size of parcels was limited. Recently the found mother who wished to provide Christmas cheer for the boys west, began several weeks ago a head to forward the necessities. One mail carried the plum puddings neatly sewn in cotton wrappings, another the lace and linens for the pudging sauce, and so on. These were carefully guarded by the lucky recipients until all had arrived. Then friends gathered to justify the time occasion, a wild goose or other game having been put away to complete the bill of fare, as Christmas turkey was an unheard of luxury.

Occasionally when the roads were bad, owing to deep snow or high water in creeks, mail drivers were bridges in those days—the mail-drivers would lose time and consequently miss a trip. Hugo Richardson, Jr., who recently died in England, was postmaster at Battleford, then the seat of government for the Northwest territories. As the mail usually arrived from Winnipeg anywhere from ten to eighteen days after its dispatch from Winnipeg, he arranged to hold the Union Jack by a signal a lantern by night as a sign of its arrival.

Mail day with its tidings of good or bad news is official news day. Insiders were always more or less of a holiday and afforded an opportunity of a friendly chat with all the inhabitants of the district. One time in the spring of 1878 the mail was two days late and it was feared something had happened, for every canister was placed in the courier.
Long after sunset, John Todd, the veteran courier, who still lives at Battleford, arrived with the mail, about 200 pounds in weight, upon his back. His horses had been drowned while trying to cross the swollen stream of Battle Creek. He had saved the mail and packed it on his back, making the forty-eight miles in about a twelve hour trip with nothing to eat.

These couriers had plenty of time to think as they wended their way over the vast prairie country. They heard the stream and scolded the hills as best they could under all sorts of climatic conditions. They were considered indispensable very early in the west when the first pioneer or spring had appeared, the date of an electric train or fall of snow and when the heart retreated for his winter sleep.
In many cases women had made the

MANITOBA PASSES THE SUFFRAGE BILL WITHOUT A DISSIDENT VOTE

Winnipeg, Jan. 14.—Premier Norrie in the legislature moved the second reading of the bill enfranchising the women of Manitoba, and the motion was unanimously adopted with great enthusiasm.

Similar unanimity marked the second reading of the Manitoba temperance act, which will be submitted to the electors for their endorsement or rejection in March.

In moving the second reading of the woman suffrage bill, Mr. Norris pointed out that besides giving votes to the women it recognized their right to sit in the legislature. It was, therefore, more important than the Australian act. By passing it, the legislature would be accomplishing an epoch-making work. He appealed to the women to take an interest in public questions.

The government brought down the bill in response to a petition signed by more than forty thousand women, and Premier Norris specially referred to the achievement of Mrs.
Barrett, of Sturgeon Creek, who although more than 70 years of age, obtained four thousand signatures.

There was no debate on the second reading. One or two men expressed their satisfaction that woman suffrage would soon become a fact for Manitoba, and the unanimous vote was then recorded.

PIONEER MAIL DAYS IN WEST

And the outside world is heard from!

In the pioneer days of the North West Territories what was known as the Saskatchewan Mail, was dispatched from Winnipeg, once every three weeks, to all points west, outside the boundary of Manitoba. Via Por-telly, Humboldt, Duck Lake, Car-

H. W. WOODS IS NEW PRESIDENT OF THE
UNITED FARMERS

Calgary, Jan. 19.—A large number of important business, including debate on the much-discussed question of farm credits, was transacted by the United Farmers of Alberta in the second day of their annual convention. The resolution adopted dealing with the matter of farm credits was that "favored by the board of directors and the legislative committee. It advocated a system of co-operative loans. The advocates of the New Zealand system of agricultural banks went down to defeat after a debate lasting on and off both morning and afternoon sessions, as well as both sittings on Tuesday. The objection to it was that it placed too much power with the government.

By an amendment to the constitution, H. W. Woods was elected as a large majority. His election was afterwards confirmed by a unanimous standing vote. There were several candidates in the field, but they were reduced to three when nominations took place. These were: Messrs.
Wood, Rice, Sheppard and J. M. Rut-tle.

Mrs. Anita Wynnyk, charged at the Edmonton criminal assizes with the murder of her husband at their homestead north of Vegreville, was on Saturday found guilty of manslaughter and sentenced by Mr. Justice Simmonds to life imprisonment.

Dairying is here to stay. The growth has been steady, yet rapid.

Ten years ago, for instance, we were starting business in a very small way. Our output was practically nil. Last year our output was 2,500,000 pounds of Creamery butter beside other dairy products. It was marketed not only in Alberta but also at the Pacific Coast and in the East.

We mention this example merely because it illustrates the growth of dairying in general and shows the demand for Alberta dairy products. No farmer need hesitate about going into the dairy business for fear it will fail. It is on a permanent basis and conditions are likely to improve steadily.

It is a well known fact that there is more prosperity to the quacre while in such dairy districts as those of Ontario and Quebec or of Wisconsin and Illinois than in almost any other farming communities on the continent. True, dairying is exacting work. It requires skill and good management. But it is decidedly profitable.

The Wetaskiwin country is splendidly suited for dairying.
The experience of scores and hundreds of dairy farmers for the district establishes this fact. Therefore we suggest that Wetaskiwin farmers go into dairying as actively as their available capital and available help will allow.

We propose to provide a first-class market for milk and cream and at the same time to operate a local industry by manufacturing both cheese and butter here. We trust that this move will benefit the Wetaskiwin district; that it will benefit the dairy industry in general.

PLAN TO PROVIDE

FOR WOMEN MADE

WIDOWS BY WAR

The question as to what is to become of women who are made widows by the war, how they are to be helped, etc., has been taken up seriously by the Salvation Army and as a result a Central Council in London has been organized, and councillors appointed throughout the United Kingdom to advise and assist war widows with a view to their present necessities and their future well being.

A tentative plan to make a large number of them self supporting has been formulated by the Salvation Army headquarters in England, and district officers in Canada have had the proposal submitted to them. Major J. W. Hay of Edmonton, district officer for Alberta, has been asked if he can place fifty war widows in the province. About ten to each of the larger cities, Edmonton and Calgary, five to Lethbridge and Medicine Hat, two to Red Deer, Wetaskiwin, Camrose, etc. There is a great demand in Canada for this class of labor, while in the old country it is a glut on the market.

It is figured that with their pension allowance from the home government and a few days' work each week, women could support themselves, but would be carefully looked after until they were well settled. The oversight would be continued where needed and it would be seen that the children would receive proper educational training, etc.

Under the Salvation Army scheme the women would not be left in the dominion and left to shift for themselves, but would be carefully looked after until they were well settled. The oversight would be continued where needed and it would be seen that the children would receive proper educational training, etc.

"Within the Law" a Thriller

"Within the Law" is a thriller that has for its heroine a young woman convicted and sent for three years to the penitentiary on false evidence who cleverly arranges her revenge by marrying the son of the man who accused her, getting him out of all sorts of trouble with the police, and finally clearing him and herself of any wrong-doing. Before the end of the play is reached "Within the Law" has its audience fairly shivering with thrill. There is a Maxim gun allcer for instance, that proves its no-nonsense in the second act by the breaking of a vase without a sound whatsoever. The play has a hint of the soldier before witnessed in any dramatic production. The average shop girl earns about $6.00 a week, on which it is not possible to keep body and soul together. It is a problem that moralists are trying to cope with, and it can be settled only by the employers of the girls; they must cut down their enormous dividends and pay their help a living wage. "Within the law" will bring a few tears and a lot of laughs, and keep you on the edge of your seat for four acts. It will appear at Angus Theatre on Friday evening, January 21.

Had Dyspepsia.

Says: HE NEARLY TURNED UP HIS TOES.

Mr. H. N. Manderson, Settler, Alta. writes: "About twenty-five years ago in the Province of Quebec, I came fairly near turning up my toes with dyspepsia. A cousin of mine persuaded me to try Burdock Blood Bitters. In about two weeks I could eat anything from raw fish to cooked beans, etc. Burdock Blood Bitters has been on the market for the past forty years, and cannot be excelled as a medicine for all diseases or disorders of the stomach. B.B.D. is manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

A statement has just been received from the headquarters of the Overseas Club giving a summary of subscriptions to the Tobacco Fund for the fourteen months ending November 30. It will be seen that practically all parts of the world are represented, and Canadians will not be surprised to learn that the work resulting from Canada's Tobacco Fund as organized by the Overseas Club, puts Canada at the head of the list. The fact that Canadian contributions up to date exceed $35,000, representing a total of 343,080 packages of tobacco and cigarettes, is worthy of note. It speaks of the generosity of the public, but if these figures are compared with the number of men at the front, it will readily be seen how totally inadequate they are to meet the needs of the case.

Cold and deep snow have driven the deer down to the salt water beaches along the northern coast of British Columbia. Several hundred gathered in the vicinity of the Powell River Paper Mills on Thursday and workmen of that village promptly subsided $100 to buy alfalfa, which is being put out today at the edge of the forest to keep the deer from starving. Herds are also decimated by cougar and wolves.

The executive of the Dayland Agricultural Society has decided to hold their second annual banquet in St. Andrew's Hall, on the evening of Tuesday, February 1, and are being assisted in their efforts to make the event the best of the kind ever held on the line by the members of the Women's Institute.
